Sandra Slater takes you from childhood work to making your wire craft looking more realistic.I especially like the horse and dog designs as you can make different recognizable breeds of dog.She shows all her work in chenille wire and I use more hard wires. This would be a good book for those working these crafts with children.There are only two small hand tools used and many people may already have these items around their home, plus if you are using chenille it is inexpensive to work with. Just starting out this is a good book for the beginner wire crafter for decorations and sculpting, it can get your creative juices flowing. As she says several times in the book practice practice as with any craft it takes time to perfect.
